MODUS OPERANDI

1. The prankster created the fake profiles of his first victims with pornographic material in their profiles.

2. Created two more fake profiles of the girls with pictures and a gay profile of a male student.

3. The prankster stopped stating the profiles of the victims making it difficult to trace his whereabouts.

4. Victims of the parents approached crime branch officials complaining about the other crime.

5. The last prankster, a branch official with help from Sunny Vaghela, came up with a trap to track down the Internet address of the prankster. They approached an Internet Service Provider private cellular company for confirmation of the IP address.

6. The prankster was nabbed after they got confirmation about the subscriber through which the profile was created on net.

7. He was served with a showcause notice by the University disciplinary committee.
